The Power Of A Sound Mind

Dr. T. D. Worthington

“For God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind.”

II Timothy 1:7

God desires for us to have a sound mind. He wants us to always be thinking clearly. I could put it this way; God wants us to be sane! I see the news today, and so often I want to say to people; “Are you nuts?” or “Have you lost your mind?”

What is Sanity?

The word for “sound mind” is the word “so-fro-n-es-mos”. It means to be safe-minded, having a prudent and sensible behavior that “fits” a given situation. It means having sound reasoning that is always under control. It means seeing the big picture with a complete perspective that sees and accepts legitimate truth from both sides of a matter. It expresses a settled state of mind that reflects the mind of Christ. We don’t have to understand it, we don’t even have to agree with it, but we still accept truth as God defines it. That is having a sound mind.

It would appear that our modern generation has confused thinking with feeling. We do not stop to think. We just react. We don’t reason things out. We seldom honestly evaluate another person’s actions. We don’t put things in context. We let our personal likes and dislikes be the only influence. We tend to check our feelings, and then let them take control.

We are fighting a civil war in America today. We are divided. We may call it the red states and the blue states, we may call it the liberal and conservative, but whatever we call it, we are fighting over two radically different and ultimately irreconcilable versions of America. Perhaps it is time to accept the fact that they cannot coexist. Only one will triumph. It’s not simply America at stake here. It’s sanity itself. The choice is between reason and madness. Yes, it’s that drastic.

In this civil war, no one is anything other than what they wish to be, what they claim to be, however they identify; all based solely on how they feel. There is no real history or precedent; these things are rewritten to suit the need of the moment. There is no objective reality based on physical or natural law. There's only the tyrannical government of our feelings. And others are not permitted to disagree. It doesn't matter that fire will burn you, if we choose to believe it will not, then that is our new truth, and that is the truth the press will report, politicians will promote, the courts will legalize, and the schools will teach our children.

Creeping out of the sewers are those bent on eradicating any vestige of American history. These are rebels keen on reinventing the past. These are radicals convinced in their truth and their vision who are willing to do whatever it takes to promote their twisted vision of perfection.

This new truth says that a girl, who feels like a boy, is as much a boy as any boy and every "real" boy must now cater to that delusion. Any boy, who thinks that his maleness has something to do with his physical body, must be made to feel guilty that he has such an antiquated and intolerant notion. We must learn to cater to the delusional psychosis of those who think differently than we do—as long as their thinking is based on insanity. Sane thinking does not enjoy the same protections in modern America. Sane thinking is now associated with hatred, bigotry, and intolerance. Who wants to bear those labels? So, by default, who wants to be sane? Sanity has become downright dangerous!

A man, who feels like, or for reasons of his own perversions, says that he feels like a woman on any given day must be permitted to use the dressing rooms and restrooms with the women, and if the women object to this invasion, they are called intolerant bigots. If they feel uncomfortable sharing intimate space with a man, it is they who must stuff their antiquated Victorian feelings, and submit themselves to the insanity of this personal violation.

Brainwashing and Child Abuse

In my opinion, the government's educational system is systematically brainwashing and intellectually abusing our children. They are teaching our children to be irrational, and to accept insanity as proper and unquestionable. Our kids may no longer know that God created them male and female. They must be taught that they can and should totally disregard their physical body if their feelings on any given day don't "match" what they see in the mirror. Actually, even that's not good enough. Now, in some environments, the kids must not be "assigned" a gender at all, but must be allowed to choose for themselves whatever they feel like. There are no boys and girls anymore. Those outdated terms are now hurtful and oppressive. They are not boys and girls, they are students. I guess before long we'll just be biological units.

We're living right now through the attempted remake of the human person into a creature defined only by feelings and delusions. Every human relationship will also be remade and renamed in order to make this insanity seem kind, and sanity seem cruel. The apostle Paul plainly gives a cause for wrong thinking:

"Because that, when they knew God, they glorified him not as God, neither were thankful; but became vain in their imaginations, and their foolish heart was darkened."

Romans 1:21

Paul then describes the end result of deliberately rejecting the existence of God:

"And even as they did not like to retain God in their knowledge, God gave them over to a reprobate mind, to do those things which are not convenient."

Romans 1:28

A debased mind is not a sound mind. Looking at verses 28-32, we can see all kinds of problems plaguing this modern world, all because of our rejection of God and His words:

“The fool hath said in his heart, There is no God. They are corrupt, they have done abominable works, there is none that doeth good.”

Psalm 14:1

History shows us that humans have almost always given preference to their own knowledge over the revealed knowledge that comes from God. The result of human thinking, apart from God, has caused untold chaos. For example, our government has mismanaged funds worse than a gambling addict. As a nation we have irrecoverable debt, grossly mismanaged funds, absolute corruption, but we don't think it is a big deal, because that is how many families handle their personal finances also. Doesn't that qualify as insane? Parents complain about their spoiled children, yet continue to spoil them more and more. Isn't that insane? I think it might qualify.

We have even lost the instinct for survival. How is it possible that the strongest of all instincts, that for survival, seems to have ceased to motivate us? The homosexual movement threatens human survival. After all, if every person on earth became a practicing homosexual the human race would be extinct in a little over a hundred years. Is that insane? I think so!

Many people today think their reasoning is just fine, and they don't really consider God. Freud described God as an illusion, created by humanity to fulfill our need for a strong father figure. According to this thinking, religion may have been useful for controlling the violent tendencies of a developing civilization, but is unnecessary now when we can turn to reason and science. Well, how's that working out for mankind? God tells us the real solution in Romans: “And be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God.”

Romans 12:2

The prophet Isaiah also records a related warning from God:

“Woe to the rebellious children, saith the LORD, that take counsel, but not of me; and that cover with a covering, but not of my spirit, that they may add sin to sin.”

Isaiah 30:1

Human reasoning, apart from God, cannot develop a mind that is sound.

How To Obtain A Sound Mind

The Bible tells us the real source:

“For God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind.”

II Timothy 1:7

Paul is teaching us that the Holy Spirit gives us the power and privilege to develop a mind that is temperate, disciplined and self-controlled. It is a mind that is peaceful and full of wisdom.

The apostle James explains the differences between the wisdom that comes from God and the thinking that is in the world around us:

“For where envying and strife is, there is confusion and every evil work. But the wisdom that is from above is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, and easy to be intreated, full of mercy and good fruits, without partiality, and without hypocrisy.”

James 3:16-17

On the spiritual level, right thinking can only come through the Holy Spirit. Of course, people can learn to reason clearly and develop common sense on the physical level. But on the spiritual level, right thinking can only come through obtaining the mind of Christ, and that comes from the fullness of the Holy Spirit.

Your Christian SuperStations!

Happy Calls

Each week we receive calls, letters, and emails from supporters of GoMix Christian Radio just like you! It's always nice to hear from our listeners and Faith Partners all across our listening area. We get calls from folks wanting to find out information about upcoming events. We get calls from people wanting to know titles of songs heard on GoMix. Many times, we get calls from individuals who just want to "encourage" us. Either way, we love to hear from you!

Among the calls and letters we receive weekly, we also receive financial support from our listeners. We have many monthly givers, but also many one-time or occasional givers. Every gift is greatly welcomed, regardless of the size. As most of you know, GoMix Christian Radio is listener supported. Due to this fact, we rely heavily on you to sustain and keep great Christian programming flowing across the airwaves.

During the winter months, things can often get tight for ministries. Due to many Faith Partners catching up from the holidays and having higher bills, such as heat and groceries, giving seems to decrease a bit from usual. For this reason, we are asking you to please consider continuing your support through these hard times, knowing that as we are ever faithful, our Lord will provide.

Something else we would like you to be in prayer about is our upcoming Spring Share-A-Thon beginning April 6th. We'll have more details for you in the next issue of PathPointe Magazine. In the meantime, we would like your prayers alongside ours in asking that God's will be done and hearts be touched for Christ.

Artist Spotlight - The King's Messengers

Formed in December, 1974, The King's Messengers grew out of the Pinkney Baptist Church in Wayne County and performed publicly for the first time at Pike's Crossroads Pentecostal Holiness Church in the Nahunta community at a Fifth Sunday Night Sing. The original members included Mike Aycock, Wayne Pittman, Gerald Bedford, Rev. Rudolph Rowe, and Cathy Aycock. From this humble beginning the group's ministry grew quickly as more and more requests to sing began to come in. After approximately one year, the schedule had become too busy for Rev. Rowe to continue and maintain his pastoral duties as well as sing. He stepped aside and Joe Bailey, the current bass singer and group manager, stepped in.

As the years passed, many other personnel changes occurred as does with most groups. One of the most notable changes was the addition of Walton Aycock, Mike's brother, to play bass guitar and later sing lead. This group of four vocalists stayed together for nearly 10 years, a rare occurrence for any group.

In the group's 46 year history, it has been blessed to be involved with 22 recording projects. These were highlighted by two live recordings. The first was done on their 16th Anniversary in 1991 at the Johnston Community College Auditorium in Smithfield, NC. This project followed their signing with Covenant Recording, which handled both production and distribution. The second, on their 20th anniversary, was done at the same location and was a great success.

The King's Messengers were also a charter member of the East Coast Gospel Music Association. In their 12 years of membership, the group was voted Favorite Male Group twice, and the vocalists and musicians won various other Cross Awards during this time.

Over the years, The King's Messengers have had the great opportunity to minister with many other top performing groups including Gold City, The Kingsmen, The Florida Boys, The Hemphills, The Hoppers, The Nelons, and The Dixie Melody Boys.

The current members of the group include Joe Bailey (bass), Tim Wells (baritone), Johnny Price (lead), Gerald Bedford (tenor), John Hinson (piano), Donald Woodard (bass guitar), and Jeff Bailey (drums). These men are committed to continuing the legacy that began 46 years ago, to go out and spread the Gospel of Christ to the world.

Undoubtedly, The King's Messengers have been tremendously blessed over their 46 year history and have seen many souls saved and lives changed as a result of their ministry. A great deal of thanks is owed to their friends and families for their prayers and support and to God for his infinite grace and mercy.

For more information about The King's Messengers, a complete listing of their upcoming schedule, or to view merchandise available for purchase, visit them online at www.thekingsmessengers.com.

Which way do I go? I have no sense of direction. My husband worries about me when I drive places I have never been to. He always tries to go with me. Even with our phones and GPS's, I seem to get lost. I have a tendency to get on autopilot when I drive. My car automatically goes in the same direction when I get in it. Most of the time, I do start out the same way. Even my church is in the same direction as my work. Is there hope for me?

If I have a detailed map telling me where to go, I do much better. Please don't tell me to go east or west. I prefer the very specific ones written by someone who has been there. I want the type that says, "Go three miles past the red barn and turn right, then turn left at the yellow house." That works really well until the red barn has been torn down. I follow the road signs very well. I dislike driving in big cities. I have driven in Washington, DC and Fort Worth, Texas - a lot different than Snow Hill, N.C.

If I pay attention to where I am going, follow the map, and keep my mind on my destination, I actually do quite well. It is when I start thinking about the problems of the day or talking on the phone that I mess up. Isn't that the way it is with the rest of life as well.

Many aspects of life are based on being able to follow directions. I honestly can't think of any area of life that is not affected by the ability to follow through on directions.

Oh wow! If I could get my students to follow directions, it would save everyone so much work. I am sure every teacher feels this way. This starts at preschool and continues until graduation. There are several times in any given day that a student has to do his work over for not following directions. As they get older they tend to ask the question, "Why do we have to do it this way?" There are times that we can look at the problem or the situation and make a change, but more often than not, we have to follow directions. I do try to explain to my students that some things are an exercise in learning to follow directions. Whatever they do with their lives, they are going to have to follow directions.

A student that gets a job at a Chick-fil-A and one who gets a job at McDonald's will have completely different instructions on how to do their jobs. There will be similarities, but there will be major differences. Any job will have specifics that one has to learn and go by. They cannot have it "their way". Any place of business will expect its staff to follow its directions or rules. We all have a schedule to keep and deadlines to meet. We cannot do our own thing if we expect to stay on the job. Our employers expect us to do as we are asked and do it the way we are asked. If we spend all day on a job because we think it is important, but we don't do what is asked, we may not have a job very long. Most places have a certain way they want things done, and we have to learn to follow the directions we are given. Perhaps we can make suggestions and improve things, but we shouldn't try that on the first day of the job. It doesn't go over very well. Being innovative is good, but we must learn to follow directions in our workplace. Each day will go a lot smoother for everyone.

Even our recreational times are filled with directions. Can you imagine a young boy playing soccer who runs the wrong way on the field? That is acceptable for a 4-year-old, but if a 12-year-old does that, he wouldn't get to play very much. If a player won't listen to his coach, he is not going to get to play. For those who like to go to the movies, try walking into the theatre with a big bag of popcorn. That is not happening, my friend. The sign says "No outside food." They don't care if you didn't see the sign.

Even at home, following directions is important. What happens when we forget to put the trash by the road on trash day? Uh Oh! Well, there are so many instances where not following directions can get us in trouble. I fixed spaghetti for dinner the other night. What if I decided that noodles should cook for 30 minutes instead of ten? I want to make sure they are done. I don't think my family would have enjoyed the meal. What if we never checked the oil in our cars? Why is the engine smoking? Oops! The consequence of not paying your taxes on time can cost you greatly. Perhaps you may lose your home.

Learning to follow directions is essential in every area of life, but none is more important than in our spiritual lives. I realize that sometimes following directions and being obedient are often one and the same. But, the Bible is very explicit in how we are to be saved and what our Heavenly Father expects of us. We do not get to pick and choose what parts of the Bible we will follow and what parts we will not. It is all true or none of it is true. Either we believe it all or we are not following God's Word. Deuteronomy 4:2 says, "Ye shall not add unto the word which I command you, neither shall ye diminish ought from it..." The Bible is our instruction book for life. It teaches us how to live, and we have to know how to follow its directions as well as its commands.

We also do not get to decide how we are to be saved. The Bible is very specific in this very important area. It is not by our good works or by our church attendance. There are many verses I could share, but John 3:16 is one of the most well-known. "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son that whosoever believeth on Him should not perish but have everlasting life." Yes, it is that simple. Just follow His directions. No, you can't just believe there is a God or that Jesus was the Son of God. The devil believes that! Put your name in the verse and make it personal. For God so loved.... Sherry...that I should not perish. Jesus died on the cross and washed my sins away because I asked Him to. He came into my heart because I asked Him to. Now, I have the privilege of being His child. Now, I must follow Him. He is my Father, and I am in His family. All because I knew how to follow His instruction book and take it to heart.

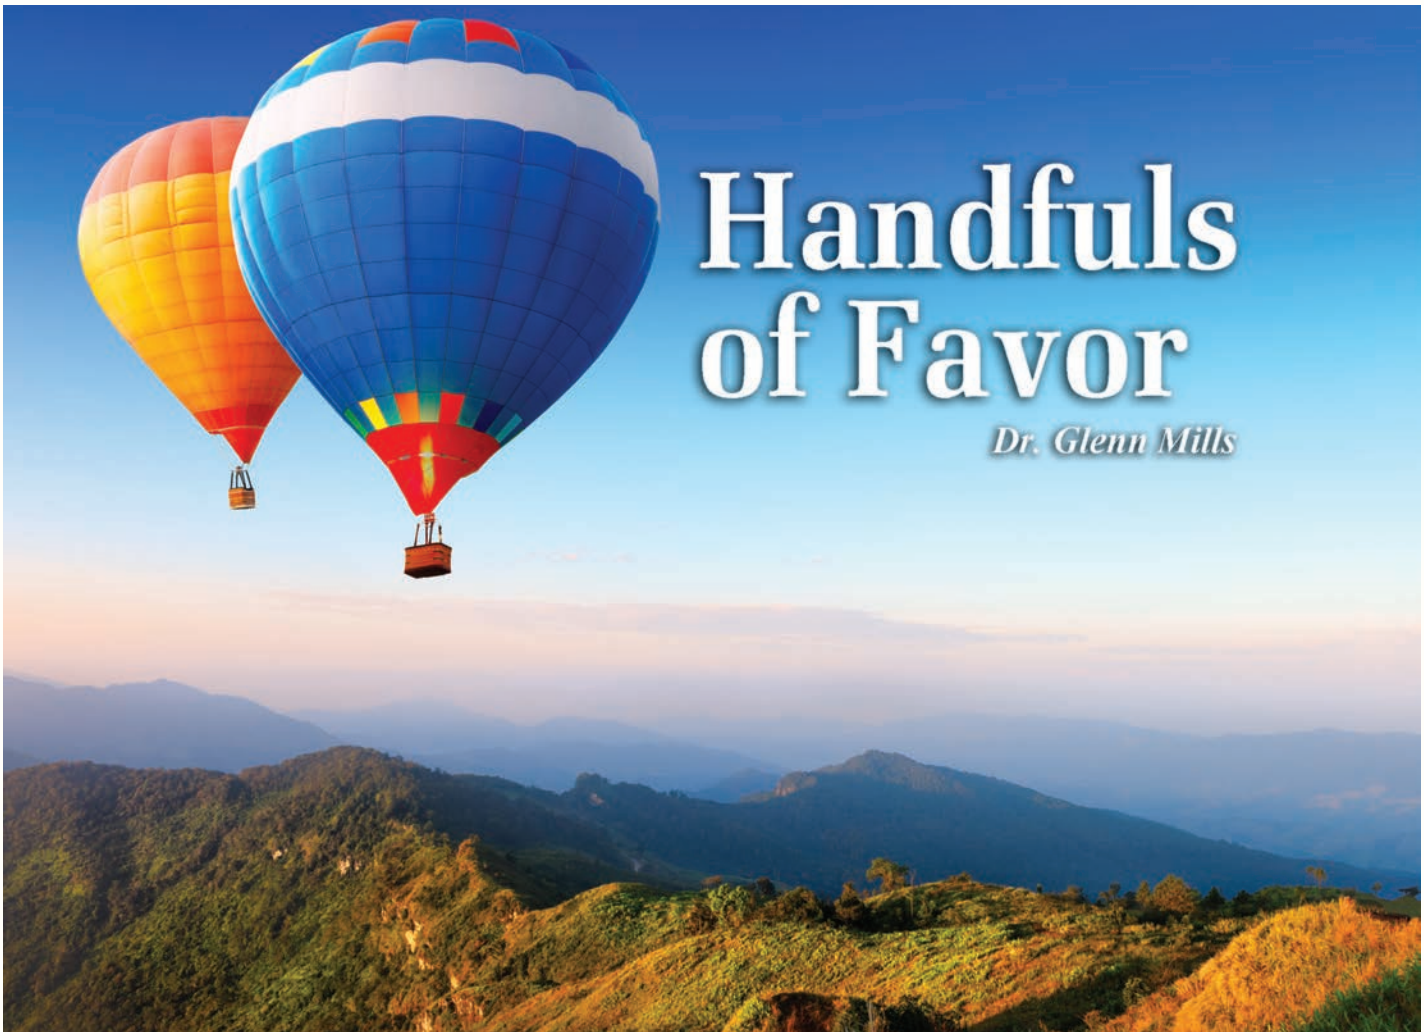

Make sure you are in God's family. Share God's instructions for salvation to others! Follow and share His instructions for a fulfilled life!

Which way do we go? His way!

Mrs. Worthington has five children and eleven grandchildren. She serves as Principal of Pathway Christian Academy in Goldsboro.

“And when she was risen up to glean, Boaz commanded his young men, saying, Let her glean even among the sheaves, and reproach her not: And let fall also some of the handfuls of purpose for her, and leave them, that she may glean them, and rebuke her not.”

Ruth 2:15-16

We see in the story of Ruth, how God was represented through Boaz as the redeeming kinsman. God redeemed us through the blood of His only begotten Son, Jesus. What a beautiful picture of how much God loves and cares for each of us. But there is so much more to the story than just God’s salvation. God not only wants to save us from our sins, He also desires to bless us greatly.

There are many in the body of Christ today who are as saved as one could ever be, yet they still live in want and lack. It is not because God is unable to bless us, but more so, we often don’t believe He will. Many have allowed Satan to convince them their past is still hindering their future. God is painted as one Who keeps score of all our sins and requires us to pay some kind of debt.

The Bible makes it clear that Jesus FULLY paid for our sins; not mostly, but completely. We have never had, nor will we ever have, what it takes to pay for sin. Only Jesus was able to do that for us.

Many Believers are content to believe God made a way for us to get to Heaven, but we have doubts when it comes to God bringing Heaven and blessings to us. Many also go as far as to believe God wants to commune with us, but still find it hard to believe He wants to richly bless us. In no way am I casting stones my friends, for I too have walked the road of doubt from time to time. God forgive me for the time I’ve wasted listening to the devil and missing my blessing.

Spiritual Survival

Boaz is the picture of God wanting to bless us abundantly. Ruth, like many, was surviving but not thriving. She gathered just enough to feed herself and her mother-in-law, Naomi, each day with little to spare. How many believers are living the very same way today? We are saved from Hell, but see little of the blessings of Heaven. Many are in debt, heartache, sickness, depression, lack, addiction, and despair even though they are sincerely saved. Many are just existing in their jobs, relationships, health, and church life. Let's look at a few things Ruth did that changed her situation.

Properly Positioned

Ruth made a choice to follow Naomi, and she accepted Naomi's God as her own. Therefore, she became subject to God's leading and direction.

"The steps of a good man are ordered by the Lord: and he delighteth in his way."

Psalm 37:23

By putting God first, she soon found herself in the fields of a man named Boaz, who was extremely wealthy. Divine appointment! Once there, she showed great respect to those in charge of the field and harvest. True Integrity! She then worked all day without once complaining. Self-control!

While many believers have accepted God's salvation, they have not followed His direction for their lives. Therefore, they end up in the wrong place at the wrong time. Then, there are those believers who are lazy, rebellious, and do not respect authority. Still yet, there are those who complain about every little thing that goes wrong or has not happened as they wished.

Delight in the Lord

Ruth first delighted in the Lord and then He gave her the desires of her heart. Ruth simply followed God for a harvest, but God gave her a husband who owned the harvest. When we put God first, everything else will come to us; not only our needs, but even the desires of our heart.

"But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you."

Matthew 6:33

God wants to be the most important thing in our lives, not second best or last choice.

Handfuls on Purpose

Favor is in our future. We don't have to figure it out or come up with the right plan. God has blessings and favor just up the road for us. All we have to do is remain faithful and follow Jesus. A better job is just ahead. Better health is around the corner. Freedom from debt is within reach. Restoration is on the horizon. Promotion is on the way. God will bless and favor the faithful. There are handfuls of blessing waiting for us, and God put them there on purpose. Keep your life clean by the Holy Spirit and with the Word of God. No more lack! Favor by the handfuls! Stop any and all excuses, murmuring, and complaining. Praise and worship our God of the harvest. Why survive when we can thrive on God's loving favor and blessings? It's not even that we deserve it, God wants to bless His faithful children.

So my friend, just look back for a moment and count the many blessings God has already provided. Commit to obedience and faithfulness and get ready to see God amaze you with handfuls of favor on purpose.

And Finally...

My Ancestry Research...

Several years ago, I was contacted by my biological father and my three biological half-brothers through researching my genealogy and some DNA testing. Before this contact, I knew very little about my long-lost family. In the case of my father, the experience was overwhelmingly positive and turned into a wonderful friendship. We communicated for the last 18 months before his death, so it was the last chance in this lifetime for us to get to know each other. We each got some closure, and my father went as far as to write that our relationship had given him “a chance at redemption.” I was honored. One has few opportunities in life to give such a thing to another human being!

G. O.

One of my high school classmates recently found out she was adopted. In doing some research to find her biological parents, she was successful in finding her mother. Her parents no longer had a relationship with each other, but she was able to reconnect with her mother and now they have a wonderful friendship.

B. P.

I found out through research that I had a great, great grandfather that lived to be 116!

P. G.

In researching about my ancestors, I learned that even though my great, great grandfather lived in Arkansas. He joined a Union regiment in the Civil War and pretty much alienated his entire family by doing so. Through more research, guidance from locals, and getting lost a time or two in the woods, I finally found his primitive gravesite in the middle of the Ouachita National Forest where he homesteaded after the war. There were 3 gravestones that were marked. His was one of them. It was a slate slab that appeared to be hand-carved.

I was told the story passed down from family that my great grandfather had tickets to sail on the Titanic, but for whatever reason, he sold them the day before the maiden voyage. He definitely dodged the iceberg on that one! I guess in retrospect, my entire family would have been impacted if he hadn't changed his mind.
